A Cultural History of the Emotions in the Age of Romanticism, Revolution, and Empire

Paperback / softback

232 pages

Bloomsbury Publishing (UK)

ISBN 9781350345263

Catalog price: 25.99 GBP

Between 1780 and 1920, modern conceptions of emotion—conceptions still very much present in the 21st century—first took shape. This book traces that history, charting the changing meaning and experience of feelings in an era shaped by political and market revolutions, romanticism, empiricism, the rise of psychology and psychoanalysis. During this period, the word emotion itself gained currency, gradually supplanting older vocabularies and...

A Cultural History of the Emotions in the Baroque and Enlightenment Age

Paperback / softback

232 pages

Bloomsbury Publishing (UK)

ISBN 9781350345249

Catalog price: 25.99 GBP

During the period of the Baroque and Enlightenment the word "emotion", denoting passions and feelings, came into usage, albeit in an irregular fashion. "Emotion" ultimately emerged as a term in its own right, and evolved in English from meaning physical agitation to describe mental feeling. However, the older terminology of "passions" and "affections" continued as the dominant discourse structuring thinking about feeling and its...

A Cultural History of the Emotions in the Late Medieval, Reformation, and Renaissance Age

Paperback / softback

224 pages

Bloomsbury Publishing (UK)

ISBN 9781350345232

Catalog price: 25.99 GBP

The period 1300-1600 CE was one of intense and far-reaching emotional realignments in European culture. New desires and developments in politics, religion, philosophy, the arts and literature fundamentally changed emotional attitudes to history, creating the sense of a rupture from the immediate past. In this volatile context, cultural products of all kinds offered competing objects of love, hate, hope and fear. Art, music, dance and song...

A Cultural History of the Emotions in the Medieval Age

Paperback / softback

200 pages

Bloomsbury Publishing (UK)

ISBN 9781350344983

Catalog price: 25.99 GBP

Our period opens at the end of the Roman Empire when intellectual currents are indebted to the Greek philosophical inheritance of Plato and Aristotle, as well as to a Romanized Stoicism. Into this mix entered the new, and from 313CE imperially sanctioned, religion of Christianity. In art, literature, music, and drama, we find an increasing emphasis on the arousal of individual emotions and their acceptance as a means towards devotion. In...

A Cultural History of the Emotions in the Modern and Post-Modern Age

Paperback / softback

216 pages

Bloomsbury Publishing (UK)

ISBN 9781350345270

Catalog price: 25.99 GBP

The 20th century, with revolutionary and rapid developments in travel, communications and computerised technologies, offered new and seemingly limitless horizons which accompanied and amplified distinctive experiences of emotions. The birth of psychology and psychiatry revealed the importance of emotional life and that individuals could have control over their behaviour. Traditional religion was challenged and alternative forms of spiritualism...
